

Moose Knuckles is looking for Back of House Associates to join our crew. We dare to be different, and you should too. Back of house organization is key to an elevated experience for the customer and that's where you come in. You have luxury back of house experience, and know the importance of efficient and attentive shipping and receiving. You have a strong attention to detail, understanding of the basic health and safety guidelines and loss prevention expectations.

Some of what you'll do:

- Inventory checks for selling associates
- Organizing and maintaining stock spaces
- Receiving inventory in an extremely detailed process
- Some heavy lifting
- Consistent audits of space
- Inventory checks for customers on the phone
- Understanding the importance of diversity and inclusion and how it plays a role in our day to day interactions with each other and with customers
- Follow the rules; understand and comply with all company policy, procedures and operations

Some of what you'll need:

- 1-3 years' experience in BOH
- You know the stock room inside and out
- Special attention to detail
- You ensure all product is in its correct home, tagged properly, in size order and are the perfect point of reference for all our stock needs
- You are quick, thorough and efficient with stock runs and warehouse pulls
- You are stylish
- You are very much seen and will at times interact with customers so this should be expected
- You are patient with associates, helpful and more than happy to suggest other fits and options if we do not have the piece the customer has inquired about
- You know if you can lean, you can clean, and nobody needs to tell you to get a move on
