

As the Product Development Specialist – Outerwear Fabrics & Linings you will coordinate the development and sourcing of Outerwear Fabric & Linings. Liaising with many teams such as design and production to ensure that the designer’s vision can come to life, while maintaining a high-quality product, coordinating testing with the QA/QC teams.

Some of What You’ll Do:

- Help to translate the creative vision of Design to producible products that have the beauty envisioned by design and can be delivered at target margin and high quality.
- Coordinate development and sourcing of Outerwear Fabric & Linings on time and with accuracy (ensuring all adopted materials meet internal quality standards)
- Prepare / place all Salesman sample mini batches, vet and communicate all lab dip requests and comments
- Coordinate Production material hand over meeting to Material QA / QC team
- Collaborate with Materials QA & QC Teams in testing and validation of materials / and communicating any corrective action if required
- Partner with Design / Merchandising and Production teams to ensure material development is aligned with design team’s intent while assuring margin targets
- Manage to Product Calendars and Critical Patch: to deliver completed tasks on time at each stage of the development process, take initiative when required
- Launch and track test samples for both development and production approval
- Collect all material data sheets and required certificates at development and production stages
- Monitor quality issues thought development and production, and launch counter sourcing if required as corrective action for future seasons
- Keep abreast on new innovations (performance / sustainability / etc...) and collections from mills. Present research and findings at weekly meetings
- Set and maintain organizational systems to ensure materials and data are easily accessible for cross functional teams
- Additional duties as may be assigned by the Manager

Some of What You’ll Need:

- At least 3 years of experience within an Outerwear Material Role or a related position
- Strong understanding / knowledge of outerwear fabrics, materials and construction, and the interplay of materials
- A high-level technical knowledge of outerwear textiles and materials is a must
- Knowledge of product construction required
- Experience with production, manufacturing and sourcing
- Experience with product costing is an asset
- Knowledge of line merchandising and product life cycle is an asset
- Product Development experience in outerwear is preferred
- A Degree in Design is a plus

Some of Who You Are:

- Good verbal and written communication skills
- Detail oriented and strong organization skills
- Strong time management and multitasking skills
- Ability to take initiative to achieve departmental and corporate objectives
- Ability to work as a team and maintain a high level of professionalism and discretion